Congressman Mike Michaud Tours Mathews Brothers Window Manufacturing Plant
Midcoast company builds innovative energy-efficient windows and doors

(08/24/2009) - Employees of Mathews Brothers welcomed Congressman Mike Michaud today as he toured the state of the art window manufacturing plant. "We manufacture several window products here locally that meet or exceed the stimulus bill criteria, and are very pleased to offer Congressman Michaud a firsthand look at how we operate," said Mathews Brothers President, Scott Hawthorne. The congressman was given brief demonstrations at various departments throughout the mill, such as the glass cutting station, Argon station, and vinyl welders. "It was fortunate he had the chance to stop and meet some of the hardworking folks here at the plant," remarked Mr. Hawthorne.

Michael H. Michaud was sworn in as a United States Congressman in January 2003 to represent the Second Congressional District of Maine in Congress.

Mathews Brothers, the oldest continuously operating manufacturer in Belfast, currently employs over 120 people in the Midcoast area. They currently build at least six different window products that qualify for the 2009 stimulus refund. Visit www.mathewsbrothers.com for information on any of these products.

Mathews Brothers manufacturing plant in Belfast uses state of the art equipment and materials to build traditional wood, vinyl, and contemporary composite windows and doors. They've been making window products in New England since 1854. They were awarded the Belfast Area Chamber of Commerce 2007 Business of the Year for their outstanding economic development, community involvement, environmental policies and other qualities within Waldo County and the state of Maine.
